A S population becomes denser and A savings accumulate, there is imperative need for custodianship, trusteeship, agency in all of the many matters that pertain to investment.

The agent or function to whom such a charge is committed, must always be at his business, must have no exemptions, must be rich and stay rich, must live always, must have no partialities, must be subject to no outside influences, must make no mistakes, must never forget, must follow instructions, must keep a complete record, must make only reasonable charges, must have learning, experience and discretion equal to a number of the best men in the community, must be amply responsible financially. THE DEADLOCK SCARE

It Hangs Over New York Exchange Like an Ugly Nightmare.

Light Business, with the Few Fluctuations Feverish-Indianapolis Wheat and Corn Steady.

At New York, yesterday, money on call was easy at 2@3 per cent., the last loan being at 21/2, closing offered at 21/2 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 7@10 per cent.

Sterling exchange was steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.86%@ 4.87 for demand, and $4.84%@4.85 for sixtyday bills. Posted rates, $4.86@4.88; commercial bills, $4.831/4@4.831/2. Silver certificates not quoted. Bar silver closed at 74c per ounce; Mexican dollars at 58%c. At London the closing price of bar silver was 341/4d.

The total sales of stocks were 147,100 shares. The volume of husiness on 'Change was much lighter than on Tuesday, and the greatest activity was during the morning, there having been periods of extreme duliness in the afternoon. The speculaton, too, while attended by less excitement, was more feverish, as in a trader's market an upward movement was in progress in one pool, while in another the tendency was downward. Projected or problematic gold shipments were not among the moving influences, as the street seems to have come to the conclusion that the day of export has been moved forward indefinitely, in view of the easier tone of the exchange

Every day that passes over the street with the deadlock at Washington in the silver question in force renders the speculative situation more critical and increases the conservatism of the financial institutions on which depend so largely the movement of stocks on 'Change. Not that there is yet any hardening tendency in call loans, or in time money on prime collateral, but the banks are as stringent as ever in dealing with mercantile paper, and legitimate business accommodations are almost as difficult to obtain as at any time within the past three months.

Money is quoted as easy, the bank reserves have been increased, and the financial situation on the surface is healthy, but there is a real anxiety as to the future, based on the great uncertainty that attends the solution of the silver controversy. The Senate of the United States holds the key to the situation and delays inserting it into the lock. Mean while Wall street waits and drifts aimlessly, one day to the bull side, next day to the bears. To-day the speculation was most unsettled and the closing irregular, but in the main weak.

After a rather firm opening in which a majority of the active shares recorded higher prices, there was a sharp selling movement in which London was an active participant. The bears raided the general market and, with the exception of a brief rally about noon, the tendency was downward and the market closed weak. Some of the chief declines compared with the closing prices of Tuesday were: Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, 11/8; Chicago Gas, Rock Island, Louisville & Nashville and Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis, 3; Sugar, %. A squeeze of some shorts in Delaware, Lackawanna & Western was very neatly effected, the shares being run up 314 per cent. and, when the corner was turned, let off 1%, but holding an advance of 1% on the day. Wheeling & Lake Erie preferred rose 1%, and Louisville, New Albany & Chicago rose 1.

The railroad bond market was irregular and unsettled. Lehigh Valley terminal firsts show a decline of 11 per cent. compared with the last previous sale made some weeks ago. Government bonds were steady. State bonds were unsettled. Closing quotations were:

INDIANAPOLIS GRAIN AND PRODUCE. A Fairly Active Market, Characterized by Steadiness in Prices.

There was a fair aggregate of business done yesterday-sufficient to indicate that the week's showing will compare favorably with that of the preceding one. There was no change in quotations in dry goods or groceries. Coffees are firm at the figures quoted and all other staples are steady to strong. In fruits and vegetables there is a good trade, and the market is well supplied. Peaches are scarce and high, some fancy lots selling as high as $3. Sweet potatoes are lower, and the quality improved. Irish potatoes are stiffening in price, owing to the short supply. There is a slight advance in some articles of provisions. In the grain market the duliness of the past month continues. The only change noticed yesterday was a sharp advance in No. 2 oats. The receipts of all cereals are light, with the inquiry on a strict parity. The inspections yesterday were fourteen cars of wheat, seven of corn and two of oats. The closing bids on 'Change were:

STILL WHEAT WENT UP

Chicago Bulls Dodged Bullets Yesterday and Kept Bidding.

Offerings of Corn Were Liberal and the Price Declined, While Provisions Absolutely Slumped.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27 .- Dodging bullets and discussing the novel experience took the edge off other business on 'Change to-day. Wheat was bulgy at the opening, but easier at the close, quitting at a shade better than last night's quotations. Corn weakened 16c on continued liquidation by the longs. Provisions were duller than ever and fell off 20@30c. Wheat at the opening was 1/2c higher than yesterday's closing, eased off %c. advanced with numerous fluctuations %c, declined 1c, held steady, and the closing was about 1/3c higher than yesterday. The advance was a continuation of the bull feeling which was developed yesterday toward the close of the session, being based on the reported large freight engagements at the seaboard. Shorts were inclined to cover, and they were prominent as buyers at intervals during the early part of the session. The last half of the session the market ruled very quiet and the feeling easy. The export clearances were smaller and the bull feeling wore off as the day passed.

Offerings of corn were quite liberal. The market opened unchanged, but soon declined %c, rallying 4c later, sold off %c, ruled steady, and closed with \%@1/2c loss. The selling by the buyers of yesterday was instrumental in creating the depression. The receipts of 544 cars overrunning the estimates also had the same tendency. For to-morrow the arrivals are placed at

Oats started with a good demand, so that prices were bid up 1/2c, but on increased offerings later declined %@1/2c, and closed The provision market was very heavy all day, with the packers and the big run of hogs both against prices. Little was done except to mark down prices. Freights were stronger and 14c higher. Charters were at 24c for wheat and 2c for corn to Buffalo. Estimated receipts for to-morrow are: Wheat, 150 cars; corn, 740 cars; oats, 310 cars; hogs, 27,000. The

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Taking one day with another, a larger volume of business is in progress in the dry-goods market than was in progress last week. Staple cotton goods, at the low prices current, are in quite a demand. Prints and printed fabrics show reduced stocks. Fancies, indigo blues, reds and shirtings, with some of the more popular tickings, are quite exhausted. The market for this class of goods shows an upward tendency. For printing cloths, 3c for 64X 28-inch cloths is the ruling figure, at which the market is firm. Ginghams and woven fabrics of staple and dress styles are selling well. Dress goods generally rule firm, the more desirable staple fabrics commanding full prices, while the lower-priced goods show some weakness, being avoided by buyers. Woolen and worsted goods how more activity and considerable firmness, without quotable change. Foreign dry goods are quiet but steady. The jobbing trade reports business fairly active for prints and gingham and dress goods generally, with hosiery and underwear lines selling moderately.

VAN ALEN'S APPOINTMENT. A Display of Wealth Not Necessary for an American Minister.

Philadelphia Record. The solitary opology for this extraordinary appointment is sent out from Washington in the semi-official and "inspired" declaration that Mr. W. W. Astor's lavish expenditure at Rome as American minister set a standard for our representative at the Italian court which has embarrassed alike his successors and those charged with

This is nonsense. It is as unjust to Mr. Astor as it is untrue. The standard for the American minister at Rome was set, not by Mr. Astor, but by Mr. George P. Marsh, who held the place for twenty years and showed how little disbursement and display are needed to command respect for the representative of a great nation when the representative himself is equal to his duties and has something more than money to recommend him. As a matter of fact, Mr. Astor himself on going to Rome modestly expressed his own consciousness of the disadvantage in which a man of mere money stood in succeeding Mr. Marsh and the position and reputation he had won. Mr. Astor, whose expenditure was far from being extravagant, was succeeded by Mr. J. B. Stallo, a Cincinnati lawyer, without money, manners or address, experience or ability. His blunders in behavior were laughable. His failures in diplomacy lamentable. He succeeded in a brief term in destroying what he could never have craated-the respect for American diplomacy bequeathed by Mr. Marsh to his successor and which Mr. Astor, if he had done nothing to increase, had also done nothing to Governor Porter, of Indiana, and Mr. Potter of this city, have both filled the post with credit and success. It is ridiculous to say of either that they were embarrassed by Mr. Astor's expenditure. The remark betrays a radical misapprehension of the conditions under which an American representative assumes his duties and which makes it far easier to follow a man of fabulous wealth whom he cannot be expected to emulate than to succeed a man of less conspicuous wealth.

The official apology would not justify Mr. Van Alen's appointment, if it were true; and it is not true. The selection is disgraceful. It is purchased, unfit and unpatriotic. Democratic as the Senate is, enough has been laid bare to justify its summary rejection.

EDISON'S METHODS.

He Does Not Invent by Accident or Reach Results Without Work. Review of Reviews.

His genious comes near to justifying that definition of the word which makes it an infinite capacity for taking pains. "Are your discoveries often brilliant intuitions? Do they come to you while you are lying 'awake nights?" I asked him.
"I never did anything worth doing by accident," he replied, "nor did any of my inventions come indirectly through acci-dent, except the phonograph. No; when I have fully decided that a result is worth getting I go ahead on it and make trial after trial until it comes. I have always kept strictly within the lines of commer-cially useful inventions. I have never had any time to put on electrical wonders, valuable simply as novelties to catch the popular fancy." And he named in distinction some noted electricians who had made their reputation through the pyrotechnics of the profession.

"What makes you work?" I asked with real curiosity. "What impels you to this constant, tireless struggle? You have shown that you care comparatively nothing for the money it makes, and you have no particular enthusiasm in the attending fame."

"I like it," he answered, after a mo-ment of puzzled expression, and then he repeated his reply several times, as if mine was a proposition that had not occurred to him before. "I like it. I don't know any other reason. You know some people like to collect stamps. Anything I have begun is always on my mind, and I am not easy while away from it until it is finished. And then I hate it." "Hate it?" I asked, struck by his emphatic tones. "Yes," he affirmed, "when it is all done and is a success I can't bear the sight of

it. I haven't used a telephone in ten years and I would go out of my way any day to

In the making of a thimble there are several operations, the blank passing into the cup, and then the rolling on of the band. Then the thimbles, which have assumed a form warranting the name, are carried to the factory proper, and after burnishing the more interesting process of knerling is performed. This knerling is the forming of the little indentations which receive the end of the needle and assist in pushing the point through the fabric. The cup is placed in a lathe, and the operator with a suitable tool knerls the end of the thimble. During this operation a pculiar and by no means unpleasant musical sound is emitted with varying tones. The point of the thimble being reached, a flat knerler finishes the side, and with a sharp-edged tool the polished cutting at the sides of the band is performed. Then on another lathe it is placed in a hollow block and the inside burnished. All the oil and dirt are then removed, and the thimble is polished and made ready for the market. Thimbles are made of various metals, those of gold naturally being prized highly, while one on exhibition at the world's fair of colored gold studded with a band of forty diamonds is fit for a princess. A monstrosity at the same exhibition is a thimble nine inches high and seven inches wide, the maker having at one time some idea of teaching an elephant the art of sewing.

DAILY.

SUNDAY

The Journal's price for daily is only 15 cents a week, and it has a very wide circulation, reaching a large number of people hitherto unable to afford the luxury of a first-class daily paper. Reports from agents and subscribers indicate a continued increase, and that what used to be regarded as a luxury has become a necessity. The new readers not only remain, but they are constantly increasing.

It is the purpose of the Journal to make itself even more indispensable to its patrons, new and old, and to still further widen its field. To this end it will not only endeavor to maintain the characteristics which have established its reputation as by far the best newspaper in Indiana, but will add such new features and improvements from time to time as are in accord with journalistic progress and that may tend to the advantage of its readers. It will, for example, give increased attention to State and local interests. What Indianians want is a paper in which Indiana affairs given are especial prominence and importance. This want the Journal has always supplied as no other paper published outside or inside the State is abla to do; but the rapidly developing industries and business and social enterprises of the community call for additional consideration and space, With this in view its corps of correspondents has been increased until ithas a representative in nearly every town in the State Special traveling correspondents will visit the news centers of the State at trequent intervals, thus insuring the "write up" of every important event or matter of general interest.

Being published in the geographical center of Indiana the Journal is afforded unusual facilities for securing news promptly, and, what is of greater consequence, is able to reach its subscribers without delay. The ruuning of moraing trains from Indianapolis is very favorable to the early distribution of papers sent by mail or express, and in most towns within a radius of a hundred miles Journals are delivered as early as in the city where they are printed. In the more remote counties there is but little loss of time in transportation. The Journal is the paper for Indianians and particularly for Indiana Republicans. The change of administration involves the settlement of political problems likely to be of the most direct personal concern to every farmer and business man in the State. All such matters will be set forth in detail, the Journal's Washington correspondent being instructed to give especial attention to every hing having a possible bearing on Indiana interests.

But though the Journal is Republican in politics it is non-partisan in the publication of news. Its constantendeavor is to secure facts unbiased by prejudice and to make its columns trustworthy records of each day's happenings. A large editorial force supplements the work of the press associations and the correspondents, and furnishes careful supervision for each department.

The Sunday Journal has a well-established literary character, superior to that of any Western paper. It is not defaced by "plate matter" nor filled with a heterogeneous mass of syndicate literature, but its contributions and miscellany are chosen with a view to their special fitness and adaptability to the tastes of the readers. The reading matter in any given number of the Sunday Journal is equal in quantity and is not inferior in quality to that found in the leading magazines. As an educational adjunct and a source of entertainment the Sunday Journal is indispensable in every well-regulated family.

The Weekly Journal, at $1 per year, contains more reading matter than can be obtained for the money in any other shape. It is carefully edited and offer the news of the week in condensed shape and a variety of miscellany, agricultural and household literature that render it one of the best invest. ments that any family can make.
